

R. Bin Wong Director UCLA Asia Institute and Professor of History.

Wong's research has examined Chinese patterns of political, economic and social change, especially since eighteenth century, both within Asian regional contexts and compared with European patterns. Among his books, China Transformed: Historical Change and the Limits of European Experience) also appears in Chinese. His latest book, co-authored with Jean-Laurent Rosenthal, Before and Beyond Divergence: The Politics of Economic Change in China and Europe will also appear in Chinese and French. Wong has also written or co-authored more than seventy articles published in Chinese, English, French, German and Japanese.
